

VacuEasylift VM180 metal sheet lifter

A total of four units of VacuEasylift installed in a laser center in this company. By using a larger amount of suction feet it is possible to lift very thin sheet metal. Each installation consists of a free standing structure which is used as suspension point for a monorail that carries the vacuum lifter.

